

TRIAD Safety Presentation

On March 25 at 5pm, the Stoneham TRIAD program, which is a partnership between the senior center, law enforcement, and supportive/ protective services, will be conducting a presentation at the senior center on two important programs; Persons at Risk Program and the Safety Net Program. Persons at Risk Program provides the Stoneham Police Department with pertinent information on residents with any issues that would deem them at risk of wandering from their residence. If you are a spouse, parent, or caregiver of a person you believe is an “At Risk” resident, an information sheet needs to be completed from the police department. All information will be available to officers and dispatchers. Additionally, SafetyNet by LoJack is “simple and convenient...with proven technology to find and rescue individuals with cognitive disorders, such as autism, Alzheimer’s and other conditions, who tend to wander and become lost”. Both programs are designed to keep those safe in the community who may be at risk of wandering as a result of cognitive impairment. Sandra Fall, Quality Improvement Director for Mystic Valley Elder Services will also be here to discuss the importance of having these programs in place at the community level.

Come and learn what you can do to prevent harm from coming to your loved ones and assist in keeping them safe. This presentation is free but please register in advance by calling the senior center at 781-438-1157. Immediately following the presentation, dinner will be served. We hope to see you there!
